

Mobile Technical Project Manager (Remote)

Job Description

We are a digital agency with 20 years of experience designing and developing web and mobile platforms, as well as video games, AR/VR apps, and AI/ML. We are headquartered in Miami, FL with a strong South American team, and have clients and partners in the US market of all sizes and verticals. Among other accolades, we are a 4-time Inc. 5000 Fastest Growing Companies in America honoree.

We are looking to expand our amazing roster with a Mobile Technical Project Manager that is well-versed in Agile Methodologies and is located in Latin America. As we are currently working with multiple companies on many different products, we have quite a few projects where someone like you could make a difference.

We are looking for:

- 5+ years of experience managing mobile development teams.
- Strong leadership and organizational skills with excellent written and oral communication skills, time management, project planning, people and team building skills.
- Conflict resolution to understand various obstacles and apply negotiation skills to find optimal solutions.
- Experience in developing and executing plans, meeting deadlines, and operating under tight time constraints.
- Ability to apply advanced principles, theories, and concepts, and to contribute to the development of innovative principles and ideas.

We offer:

- Fully remote
- Long-term
- Full-time
- No timezone shifting
- Compensation in US Dollars